“We have more possibilities available in each moment than we realize.”

Thich Nhat Hanh

An old Vietnamese proverb with much meaning in today’s world, especially in today’s financial world. The need for specialized knowledge in the financial world is rapidly increasing and the Masters in Financial Management programme (MFM) presents one of the possibilities to capitalize on this opportunity. By obtaining the necessary knowledge at the MFM, you can embark on a successful career in the international financial world.

The Masters in Financial Management programme is offered by the Erasmus Center for Financial Training (ECFT) in conjunction with the Rotterdam School of Management (RSM) and combines in-depth financial theory with practical relevance and skills through highly interactive courses, workshops, and guest lectures by top financial specialists. This approach optimally prepares ambitious young professionals for a successful career in finance.

To put it differently: The MFM offers its students the possibility to embark on a grand career in finance.

The application process for the MFM programme for the academic year 2008-2009 is currently in full progress and due to overwhelming interest in our programme; we have decided to host a special chat session for everyone from Vietnam who is interested in the MFM, on Friday, April 11th 2008, between 10.00 and 11.00 CET (15.00 – 16.00 Ho Chi Minh City Time).

The session represents a unique opportunity to chat with Prof. dr. Spronk and other teachers of the MFM programme. Furthermore, you will be able to ask questions about the curriculum, housing, scholarships and life in the Netherlands.

The MFM-team is looking forward to meet you Friday, April 11th 2008!
